

GENEVA GROUP INTERNATIONAL

Geneva Group International European Conference
Limassol, Cyprus
19th – 22nd April 2007

Workshop I: Practice Group Meeting Debt Collection

Johan Langelaar

In their day-to-day business, lawyers as well as tax advisors and accountants meet clients who are facing problems with international debt collection. An international organisation like Geneva Group International should therefore provide its members with special interest grouping as an instrument to assist clients in these matters and to emphasise the importance of international contacts. All practice group members, as well as Delegates who are not yet practice group members, but would like to join the group, are invited to participate in this meeting.

Workshop II: Consolidated Financial Statements according to IFRS

Ingolf Schulte

This workshop provides an opportunity to exchange ideas and experiences in relation to clients whose consolidated financial statements are prepared according to IFRS. The workshop aims to create a database or other source of reference containing information, specific approaches and solutions together with a comprehensive set of experiences which is accessible to members with an interest in the subject matter.

After the conference, the data will be made available to members logging onto the GGI website. This represents a considerable saving in terms of preparatory work and research costs and at the same time, the creation of expert teams enhances the technical cooperation within the network.

Workshop III: Easy & efficient ways to increase business within the network

Robert D'Alessandro

Michael Reiss von Filski

We are proud of the fact that some Geneva Group Member Firms generate up to 40% of their turnover through referred work within the network, and it is a priority for us to enable other members to identify and develop new GGI business opportunities. This 'relationship-management' workshop looks at some of the most efficient ways to increase business via GGI quality interaction, creating better overall awareness and how using the network can add value to members.

Dr. D'Alessandro and Michael Reiss von Filski will together review a variety of ways to best respond to the specific GGI environment, to highlight opportunities for partners and staff, and to illustrate ways of developing client benefits through affiliation to Geneva Group International. Apart from the established opportunities (e.g. initiating a practice group, chairing a workshop, publishing an article in Insider, hosting a conference) the workshop will focus on new initiatives with the purpose of providing guidelines for 'GGI networking protocol' to facilitate business interaction within Geneva Group International.

Workshop IV: Exchange of international tax ideas
Graham Busch

Workshop limited to ten participants with no more than one person per country. Each participant will give a short address (approximately 8 minutes) on his / her country's tax system and any international tax planning opportunities. There will be time to ask each participant questions.

Workshop V: Business Opportunities in Cyprus
Marios Eliades

This workshop will focus on Cyprus and its potential for the international business community, particularly with the ongoing growing globalization of the world economy which renders the notion of national boundaries and closed, inward-looking economies obsolete and without real meaning.

Workshop VI: Best Practices & Creativity in your Business
Francis Ruggiero

Practitioners who utilise Best Practices and Continuous Improvement tools find it easier to become more creative in the management of their practices, regardless of whether these are smaller or larger.

Workshop VII: Bank Compliance
Stéphane Strub
