

Dear fellow GGI member

Given the Austral-Asia conference has been postponed, we still feel it would be nice if all Australian and New Zealand members had an opportunity to get to know each other, on a low key basis, prior to us meeting more formally when the Austral-Asia conference is held next year. Accordingly we discussed with Peter Kaeser the possibility of anyone who is available joining us in Melbourne on Thursday 14 May 2015 for a low key meet and greet. This date coincides with an annual budget briefing presentation and breakfast that we host for clients and associates.

Peter Kaeser will be attending our budget briefing and will be saying a few words about the GGI network. We propose anyone who can make it come to Melbourne as our guests at this event and stay on afterwards for a get to know you session, lunch and regional economic discussion. A key speaker at our breakfast will be Professor Neville Norman, one of Australia's most prominent (and entertaining) economists. Neville has agreed to lead a regional economic discussion for GGI members in the post event.

We would be happy to host our fellow members for breakfast and lunch and would be happy to assist anyone with background information on local accommodation options and travel information.

It would be helpful to get some idea of likely numbers. Please email Andrea Bradley (abradley@cfmc.com.au) to advise if any of your firm's partners are able to join us. At this stage we are just seeking an indication of numbers, not an absolute commitment. We will firm up numbers and details closer to the event.

Regards

Neil
