DR. SVEN NOLTE

Dr. Sven Nolte, born in 1984, studied Business Administration from 2004 to 2008 at the University of Münster (WWU).

After his graduation he worked as a Research Assistant at the Chair of Finance as part of the Finance Center Münster at the WWU and did his PhD dealing with the field of decision-making in retirement arrangements.

In his Doctoral Thesis for which he received the top grade “summa cum laude” and for which he has been awarded with the “Dr. Andreas Dombret-Promotionspreis” of the Münster School of Business at the WWU being the dissertation best combining science and practical applicability, he examined behavioral aspects focusing on annuities. His thesis consists of difference scientific papers under the headline of “Behavioral Aspects of insuring Financial Risks during the Payout Phase of Retirement”. At national and international conferences (Barcelona/Spain and Boulder/USA), Dr. Sven Nolte presented his findings and insights from his studies including a representative survey to a broad audience with representatives from the scientific as well as from the practical side. Retirement arrangements as a topic and (in) correct decisions affiliated to this are also the content of his coming lecture at the “summa cum laude”-ceremony of the WWU on December 6th, 2013.

Right now Dr. Sven Nolte is working as “Akademischer Rat” at the University of Münster striving for his postdoctoral lecture qualification and becoming a Profession in the field of Finance. He regularly gives lectures such as Empirical Lab for the Master’s Students and the Introduction in Finance for an audience of about 1.100 first semester Bachelor’s Students.
