4 – 6 OCTOBER 2013
ZURICH, SWITZERLAND

DR. DANIELE GANSER

Daniele Ganser was born in 1972 in Lugano in the Italian speaking part of Switzerland. He is a Swiss historian who specializes in international relations and international history from 1945 to today.

His research interests are peace research, geostrategy, secret warfare, resource wars, globalization and human rights. He teaches at Swiss universities and is the Director of the Swiss Institute for Peace and Energy Research (SIPER) in Basel, Switzerland.

1992 he studied Ancient and Modern History, Philosophy, English Literature and International Relations at Basel University in Switzerland, Amsterdam University (UVA) in the Netherlands and at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) in England. He obtained his Master in history in 1998 summa cum laude and his PhD in history in 2001 insigne cum laude.

From 2001 to 2003 Daniele Ganser was a Senior Researcher with the Think Tank Avenir Suisse in Zurich. He was responsible for international relations and among other things directed the campaign of the Think Tank which influenced the national vote that led to Switzerland becoming a full member of the United Nations Organisation (UNO) in 2003.

From 2003 to 2006 Daniele Ganser was a Senior Researcher at the Center for Security Studies at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH) in Zurich. In cooperation with the Swiss Foreign Ministry – the Federal Department of Foreign Affairs (DFA) – he investigated the impact of globalization on war and peace and researched how Swiss and international companies support and profit from war, or alternatively, promote peace through corporate social responsibility (CSR).

Daniele Ganser has researched at the Military Academy (MILAK) of the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (ETH). He has been invited several times by the Swiss parliament and Swiss national television to offer his expertise on matters of foreign and security policy. His book on NATO's secret armies was translated into ten languages. His newest book is “Europa im Erdölrausch. Die Folgen einer gefährlichen Abhängigkeit“ and deals with Peak Oil and dwindling oil resources.
