Artificial Intelligence: Ethical and Legal implications

Join us! A perfect opportunity to deepen your understanding of AI and the challenges the use of AI introduces. Not only from a legal perspective but also through current examples and applications of AI such as; Uber, Lyft and Elon Musk's newest challenge. We will tackle the role of ethics in AI and the many new dilemmas the use of AI brings along. Finally, we will explore the legal framework of Privacy and IP law, including the fundamental principles of the GDPR in the light of the use of AI as well as the Copyright and Patent laws while discussing the issue of ownership of AI creations.

This session is jam-packed with current examples and cases and is a must for every professional who is looking to best serve their clients in today's global evolving AI environment!

Rens Goudsmit leads the TK Tech team. TK Tech is the new technology driven tech hub from GGI member firm Teekens Karstens advocaten notarissen. Rens acts for a variety of (tech) clients, where he specialises in advising on the various elements of tech contracting, such as software, cloud computing, privacy, data protection and the use of blockchain and/or AI.
