EISENBERG, AUSTRIA

Speaker Summary

The Future of Business in Emerging Markets:
A different kind of leadership

Nenad Pacek will look at key megatrends shaping global and emerging market economies today as well as key business megatrends that each business should be aware of. Participants will be provided with an economic tour of the world's regions and key countries. Nenad will also share findings from his new book and will examine what companies need to do today to be successful in international business in the next decade.
